Awards 2016

A celebration of apprentice achievement and employer support

BRISTOL
LEARNING CITY

APPRENTICESHIPS

Investing in the future of the Construction Industry

On Site Bristol was established in 1996 in partnership with Bristol City Council as well as other partners.

- We currently have just under 300 apprentices, in employment, on our apprenticeship programme
- We successfully work in partnership with 250 plus employers, in the Bristol area, supporting apprentices on our programme
- We are proud of our success rates, with around 92% of On Site Bristol apprentices achieving their qualifications on time

These annual awards recognise the skills, dedication and achievements of young people involved in the programme, as well as their supporters in the workplace.

We will be joined tonight by:

COUNCILLOR JEFF LOVELL

The Right Honourable Lord Mayor of Bristol

Born in Bristol and raised in Filwood, educated in local schools, Ilminster Avenue & Connaught Rd.

Starting his working life as an apprentice at Berger Paints he then moved on to a career with Avon Fire Brigade.

REBECCA TREGARTHEN

Regional Business Development Manager for VINCI Construction UK as well as the Chairman of the Institute of Directors in Bristol. She has a diverse business background and has spent the last 15 years involved within the construction industry enabling companies to increase work, raise profile and develop growth strategies.

LEIGH HUGHES

Business development and CSR Director for Bouygues UK, Board Director of Constructing Excellence Wales, Chairman on the Board of (LSkIP), and other CITB forums

Bouygues UK is one of the country's leading construction companies who are proud of their focus on giving back to communities through training and employment opportunities.
